

A top-down photograph of a round wooden cutting board used as a charcuterie board. It is filled with a variety of snacks. In the center is a small bowl of yellow dip, possibly mustard or hummus, topped with red pepper flakes. Surrounding the dip are several types of grapes (red and green), thin slices of white cheese, and various crackers. There are also pieces of cooked sausage and some fresh fruit like apple slices and rosemary sprigs. A metal cheese knife rests diagonally across the board.
